besides translating, mostly at sight, the greater part of the reading matter in the reader annexed to their grammatical text book. History. The Freshman Class has had one hour a week throughout the year in class room work in History.

According to program both Greek and Roman History should have been taken up during that time. But it has been found barely possible to obtain a satisfactory outline of Greek History alone in the given time, thus leaving Roman History to be taken up at some subsequent period. Remarks. In conclusion I would state that though from causes specially affecting the Junior Preparatory Class, instruction has been carried on under some difficulties, I have every reason to be pleased with the conduct and general industry of the students under my care. The lack of adequate preparations has in many conspicuous instances, been fully compensated for by zeal and the resolve to take full advantage of the opportunities so generously afforded by the State. The difficulties, it may be hoped, will diminish with time, while the zeal and industry will remain. Respectfully submitted (signed) John Macnie Professor in charge. Dated at

Report Instructor Grand Forks, D.T. June 1st 1886. Report of the instructor of Book-Keeping Book-Keeping. Grand Forks, D.T. June 1st 1886. To the Honorable Board of Regents, Gentlemen: I submit below a report of the classes in Book-Keeping which have been under my instruction for the past year. No. of names on roll, 25, 7 seniors and 18 juniors, 8 of whom were ladies and 17 gentlemen. One of the ladies and one of the gentlemen were in all of the recitations (senior and junior) a part of the year, and two gentlemen had three recitations per week for a time. There have been four recitations of seventy minutes each per week, of which two were for seniors and two for juniors. Instruction has been given in single entry, the first six sets of double entry, parts of commercial calculations and in commercial law, as given in Mayhew University Book-Keeping. One student has gone through all the nine sets of double entry. I would make a suggestion that a regular class in penmanship be established, as neat books, which are essential, cannot be produced though the work may be correct. Respectfully submitted (signed) Chas. S. Teel, Instructor of Book-Keeping.
